"My tutor was very helpful and understanding. He walked me through the process of solving the problem in a step-by-step format. He made sure I understood before moving on to the next step. I am so happy I decided to try out the new tutoring site. Thanks!" —Tutor.com Student

Extend instruction beyond the classroom. Lecture, discussion sections, labs, and office hours are all tried-and-true ways to educate students. But what if you had a small army of TAs at your disposal to engage students when you aren't available?

With over 3,000 online tutors available 24 hours a day, your students can get access to subject-matter experts the moment they need help. Our tutors will guide students to a thorough understanding of concepts through a collaborative one-to-one tutoring session. Whether the focus is on pre-requisites, reviewing course topics, or preparing for exams, Tutor.com is now your around-the-clock teaching assistant.

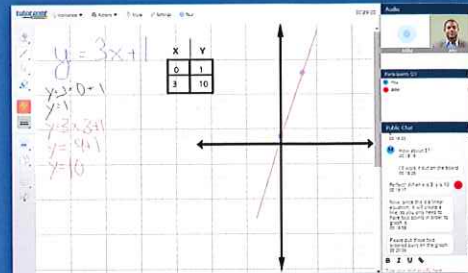

Experts You Can Trust

Tutor.com tutors come from a wide variety of backgrounds, including educators like you, who demonstrate expertise in a subject area. To become a tutor, candidates must complete a rigorous on-boarding process which includes extensive qualification tests, mock sessions, and background checks.

Commitment to High Quality: As a partner to your institution, our tutors serve as an extension of the support services you provide on campus. Our commitment to your institution begins by recruiting high quality tutors to represent you. Once hired, each tutor is assigned a mentor to work with and improve their instructional abilities. Tutors are incentivized by raises and advancement opportunities, and sessions are consistently reviewed for quality control.

Effective, On-Demand Tutoring: Our tutors work with students to follow the methodology you are using in class. Through a series of interrogative prompts, tutors guide students to a sound academic understanding of the subject matter at hand. Answers are not given and tutors will assist a student for however long it takes until the student demonstrates comprehension. With Tutor.com you can rest assured knowing your students are getting the help they need from a qualified tutor.
